Summary of Issue:

American Peat Technology (APT) has entered into a supply agreement with Brother Justus Whiskey Company (BJWC) to provide granular peat for making distilled spirits. BJWC is a micro-distiller that has developed a process to make a cold-peated whiskey using Minnesota resources and innovation. One of those Minnesota resources is peat. The process of making the peated whiskey is called the Aitkin County Process, and it was developed through the use of APT's granular peat media. The cold-peating process is an entirely new way of making peated spirits, and has the potential to create an entirely new type of spirit worldwide. APT & BJWC would like to introduce the county audience to Brother Justice, the APT/BJWC partnership and the Aitkin County Process.
